

May 22, 2012 - I need help. I can't open TecDoc 01/2012 because this error appears: The application has expired (#8500). What can I do?? and how to solve it? If this can be fixed please let me know You don't need to install new software. Just remove the current one and install the new one. All you have to do is: - download from the firmware update site - open the software you are using; - click "Firmware update"; - select "Update". If you are using version 1.1.9.3, you can download the firmware from this site: - download the firmware file from the link above;
