Using the Left Arrow key, move your cursor over the area of the eye that you want to remove. Press the Spacebar to activate the Heal Selection tool or press and hold Ctrl (Windows) or Cmd (Mac). In the pop-up menu, select Heal or press Enter. The purple healing area will appear around the red eye. If there is a red eye in the image, you will see a white dot where you first selected it. Press Enter to apply the changes. The image can now be cropped or edited in various ways. You might notice that the Healing Brush doesn't select everything in the image. The white dots are what should be selected. You can also hold down Shift to select all
